

Ofer, you are one of our children, and we feel your death with unbearable pain. And yet we cannot begin to imagine the grief and pain that is felt by Allison, your parents, sisters, brother, and all family and friends you have touched so gracefully and so profoundly.

You brought light and joy, and music, and love and spirituality into the world and it now seems a little grayer without you.

When Allison returned to the United States with you, her life was more complete, more settled and more joyful, having fallen deeply in love with you; and we know it was the same for you; for the two of you operated on a different level than the rest of us. Anyone who knew you, knew how strong your bond of love and respect was for each other.

We are grateful to have known you and to have been taught by you, and for bringing Erez into all our lives. You loved him so much - now he is your legacy. He has your beauty, your strength - all your wonderfulness! We pray for your peace.

Allison, we know that Ofer will always be a part of you also, and that you will continue to pass along his essence, coupled with your own beauty and light.

Ofer has given you his love, his strength, and his spirit. He was a gift to all of us.

May he always be a guiding light for you to draw strength from as you take each step from this day to each following day.

We love you Ofer, and we miss you; you have blessed our lives and we are not quite the same because of you.

We will remember you always.

Clare and Rich Segall.
